Area of Research:

My laboratory is primarily interested in protein misfolding neurological disorders. We are trying to explore the role of Beta sheet breaker α/β hybrid peptides (synthetic antibodies) as a therapeutic approaches to in vitro cellular model such as human neuroblastoma SH-SY5Y cells and in vivo rat models of Alzheimer's disease (AD) and Parkinson's disorder (PD). In order to understand the molecular mechanisms, various models have explored and the knowledge obtained has enriched our understanding towards some aspects of the disease. We are currently investigating how these newly synthesized breaker peptides prevent accumulation of amyloid beta into its oligomeric form basically that forms cellular plaques and NFT, the important hallmarks of the disease. These oligomers are more toxic than soluble monomeric form and as a result neuronal atrophy observed in AD. So, we are trying to investigate how it prevents neuronal apoptosis by checking various markers proteins, ROS generation and intracellular Ca^{2+} release into the cell. We are also trying to explore the effects of natural herbal extract Bacopa monnieri on AD model as it is already used as memory enhancer.
